2 HOUR AGENCY

Too many people are working jobs they despise, counting down the days until the weekend where they can escape for 2 days. Meanwhile the opportunity to create an online business that allows you to work remotely on your own terms is simply getting bigger and bigger every year. There are many ways to do it, but in the 2 Hour Agency you learn one of the proven ways to not just build up an income stream by providing digital services to clients, you also build an asset. That asset can be sold for several multiples of the annual revenue.

A digital agency has much higher profit margins than eCommerce for example, and generally has less moving parts making it a business that anyone can start as long as you have a laptop, wifi, and a strong desire to make it work for you. Once you get the foundation working in your 2 Hour Agency we automate and delegate the day-to-day tasks in your business completely allowing you the freedom to decide when and how much to work.

Robert started his own agency in 2012 which generates over $100,000 in profit annually while he simply oversees the business with just 2 hours per week.
